The C.C.F. party in Alberta—which trailed the field in Thursday's three-way by-election contest in Red Deer constituency—today holds the key to the final election results in the central Alberta riding.

In the first unofficial count of the by-election's ballots, David Ure, Social Credit candidate, heads the poll with 2,105 votes cast.

He followed closely by W. J. Edgar, Independent candidate, with Aid. Edgar Johns, C.C.F. party candidate, in third place.

First count standings of the three candidates are as follows:

David Ure, Social Credit	2,105
W. J. Edgar, Independent	2,083
Ald. E. Johns, C.C.F.	1,362

With the Independent vote trailing the Social Credit by only 72 ballots, not until Monday will final results of the election be known.

At 10 p.m. Monday night, Returning Officer V. E. Anderson of Innisfail will begin the task of officially counting the by-election's 5,500 votes. After first count has been made by the returning officer, he will allot second choices allowed under the transferable vote system to the leading candidates.

Returning Officer Anderson will first check rejected and spoiled ballots cast in the by-election, and he may allow a few rejected in Thursday night's count. This action would alter preliminary figures slightly, but could not affect the three parties' present standing, according to observers here.

TRANSFER C.C.F. VOTES

That the C.C.F.'s 1,362 ballots, standing in third place in the returns, will be reallocated to Social Credit and Independent candidates, as they are marked for second choice.

Facing provincial political lead today is the question, "how did C.C.F. supporters mark their second choice?" For the neck-and-neck race, the Social Credit party is expected to win.

No Border Cards For Canadians

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—The United States government today announced that it will not require border-crossing cards for Canadian citizens crossing the border into the United States after Jan. 1, it was learned here yesterday.

The announcement of changes in the United States regulations governing crossing of the border which will have this effect is expected shortly.

Such persons, however, will have to make evidence that they were born in Canada, Canadian citizens born outside Canada will still require special documents.

The loosening of the regulations affects persons crossing the border for stays of 29 days or less.

The change involves no alteration in Canadian foreign exchange regulations and visitors to the United States will still require a board permit in order to obtain money to make a trip.

Three More Buses For City Service

Edmonton's overland transportation system has received some relief this week through the delivery of six trolley buses from the Ford Motor Co. plant at Windsor.

Thomas Fretter, superintendent of the street railway system, said the buses would be used on feeder lines, and that one of them had already been put into operation on the route to Jasper Place from 124 street.

The other two vehicles will be placed on routes as soon as heat-cold steering has been installed, he added.

City trolley buses were made available by Transit Corporation George Gray when it was found that delivery of six trolley buses in the last year could not be made until mid-summer, 1944.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—(AP)—A hen laid an egg in court today, on trial charged with violating O.P.A. ceilings by selling a collared chicken for $3.33 cents a pound as a pullet 40 weeks old, while on exhibit in a little court case brought on by a consumer defense attorney. Tom Howard reported that the hen promptly responded by laying an egg in the courtroom. He proved, they said, a hen could lay an egg, not a cue. The jury will decide.

Nazi Assaults

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
LONDON, Dec. 17.—(CP)—A mighty force of British and Canadian heavy bombers attacked Berlin in great strength during the night and early reports today indicated the world's most-bombarded city was left reeling under the impact of its sixteenth shattering blow in a month.

Three bombers are missing.

Four R.C.A.F. bombers were lost.

SEVERAL CANUCK GROUPS

Several Canadian groups took part in the raid. Returning Canadian air reported a number of engagements with Nazi fighters and that the German capital was given a staggering blow.

The Canadian formations were the Thunderbolt and Goose squadrons.

The raid began at an unusually early hour last night to avoid moonlight.

Private information received in Stockholm said big fires were raging in Berlin, Swedish correspondents said, however, that foreign newspapers in Berlin were forbidden from describing last night's raid.

Stockholm said the information available indicated the German capital had suffered very heavily, especially in the center area. Telephone communication between Berlin and other cities was irregular. Berlin's transport was paralyzed, particularly by streets blocked by rubble.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Two U-boats were destroyed by joint air-sea assaults on a submarine pack off the coast of the Azores, it was learned today. Telephone communication between London and other cities was irregular. Berlin's transport was paralyzed, particularly by streets blocked by rubble.

The latest Soviet advance swept up several additional towns and villages above Radomsk. The German lost 80 men in futile counter-attacks and at one point were thrown back when they attempted to force a river barrier.

The Soviets also broke enemy resistance south and southeast of Cherkassy, nearly 100 miles down the Dnieper from Kiev, and captured several important localities. Four hundred Germans were killed and four tanks wrecked.

At one point the Soviets were only four miles from Smela, 15 miles below Cherkassy and last German-held railroad junction in the northern half of the Dnieper bend.

Red air force bombers, striking out in advance of ground forces, blew up a German military train at Smela.

The Russians overran a number of strongly-fortified towns near the industrial city of Kirovograd, 62 miles from Kiev, and captured a large stockpile of munitions, and a full-scale Soviet assault on the stronghold was believed near.

Churchill Reported Improving Steadily

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Winston Churchill has left Britain to be with the Prime Minister, who is showing steady improvement in his fight against pneumonia somewhere in the middle east, it was announced officially tonight.

No. 10 Downing Street, the Prime Minister's official residence, announced the departure of Mrs. Churchill and speculation that his illness might necessitate the appointment of an acting leader of the government during his absence.

Mrs. Churchill regrets that she will be unable to keep any engagements in the immediate future as she will be with the Prime Minister during his illness and convalescence, the announcement said.

The pneumonia attack in Churchill's lung has not spread, and the improvement in his general condition has been maintained, a medical bulletin said.

Despite the reserved optimism over his condition, the possibility that Churchill would be forced to remain outside Britain for some time prompted speculation that a "great number of leading barges" are reported to have been concentrated in Sicilian ports.

"The Germans are said to be making final preparations for the capture of the island, and it appears the Allies are making large-scale operations for launching an invasion," the radio said.

The Red Cross said its latest figures showed that 47 of the dead were service personnel, 23 were civilians, and that 10 bodies were known to be still in cars.

The known toll had been increased to 70 only a short time before, when the body of an unidentified civilian was removed from a twisted railroad car and another later reported that two cars each contained five bodies.

Battle of Moro River Still Remains Undecided After Hard 10-Day Fight

By DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, Dec. 15.—(Delayed)—(CP)—The Moro river battle is still undecided after 10 days and nights of bitter fighting.

It has been a hard fight and casualties have not been light but Western Canadian units, which played an important part in building up the strong bridgehead the Canadians established, are still in the line. Their positions in some cases are only 100 yards from German machine-gun nests.

Shells and mortars pound the positions 24 hours a day and every attack is met by a withering fire and followed by a counter-attack. But there is consolation in knowing that the Germans are being pushed back, no matter how slowly, and for every shell that falls on the Canadians lines scores fall on the Germans.

MAJOR LEAGUE STUFF

"This is major league stuff and the Germans are fighting every inch of the way," said Capt. R. S. Graham of Winnipeg, the adjutant of one unit. "It would be just to tell you this is an easy fight and we are getting our own way but that wouldn't be the truth. This business is tough."

The unit's second in command, Maj. R. O. Clark of Vancouver, nodded his agreement and other men in the stone house serving as battalion headquarters had no argument either.

Headquarters is some distance behind the "front" where the battalion's colonel is with his men and "doing a whole of a job," according to Clark. In those front positions soldiers in the middle of the second week under fire go unharmed and unweary and draw a burst of fire from enemy machine-guns every time they move.

Clark said food, water and ammunition are being sent forward to the troops by mule while the wounded have to be passed out by hand to the road where ambulances and jeeps pick them up.

MEET EDMONTON MEN

Capt. G. T. Harris of Edmonton, the adjutant of another battalion with headquarters nearby, said the men of his unit were not so isolated as the other westerners and one hot and two cold meals are being sent to them daily by carriers in day-time and wheeled vehicles at night. W. R. Campbell of Edmonton is intelligence sergeant of the battalion with kitbag includes W. H. Smith, Kitching, Alta, L. E. Arnold, Edmonton and W. C. Grant, Edmonton. Pte. C. A. Second Count Is Needed in Red Deer Vote rick, race which the Social Credit party now leads, with 22 votes. Monday's second count will supply the answer.

In March of 1940, in the provincial general elections in Red Deer, the independent party won on second count over the Social Credit party. Then, first-count results were as follows: A. E. MacClellan, Independent-Progressive, 97; J. H. McCulloch, Social Credit, 208; and Alfred Speakman, Independent, 276.

On second count, 247 of Mr. MacClellan's voters went to the Social Credit candidate, and 282 went to Mr. Speakman, electing him with a total of 3,142 votes over Social Credit's 2,303.

Mr. Speakman's death early in November necessitated calling the by-election. It was first held at the polls of Premier Manning's government, and third since the Social Credit party was re-elected to power in 1942.

WON BY ACCLAMATION

The Social Credit group won by acclamation the first by-election since 1940 when Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer, was elected in Vancouver after being defeated in Wagner constituency. In the fall of 1942 a by-election in the city of Edmonton elected Elmer E. Roper, provincial leader of the C.C.F., to the legislature as winner over a large field of aspirants from all political parties of the province.

Under the single transferable vote system used in Alberta when one candidate is to be elected from the field, one vote more than 50 per cent of the total votes are needed to decide the election on first count.

With 5,500 votes cast Thursday night, the Social Credit party needed 2,751 votes, or 646 more than it received to win outright.

PREMIER PLEASED

Premier Ernest Manning, asked for comment Thursday night when first-count results were known, said: "I was pleased to see the Social Credit candidate headed the poll. It will probably further comment will be made on Monday, when final results will be announced."

In the 1940 election in Red Deer, 5,814 votes were cast, and 210 were rejected. Thursday's vote was still slightly lighter than in the general election.

In the three military polls in the riding, the C.C.F. led in two, and Social Credit in one.

In another poll, a total of 13 votes were cast—making the total more than 51 each, as minimum votes for taking into account return and allowance for clerk and deputy returning officers, is 54.

Election results were released in Edmonton by courtesy of Alberta Government. Telephones, which maintained service between this city and Red Deer.

In the city office of the telephone company, in the C.P.R. building, Jasper avenue, W. B. Ferguson, general traffic superintendent, directed phone operations, assisted by J. C. Bubb, assistant district traffic superintendent, Edmonton, and Leslie Brown, chief clerk in Mr. Ferguson's office.

At the telephone company's Red Deer exchange, Local Manager R. B. Bedford and M. Munro, assistant district traffic superintendent, Calgary, were in charge. Gists of the Red Deer office of the company compiled returns. No word of the telephone company's arrangements appear, returns from the fifty polls in the riding were all in Edmonton by 7:20 p.m., two hours and 30 minutes after the last poll had closed down.

Reveal Civilians Used by Nazis As Guinea Pigs in Gas Tests

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(CP)—Aneta, Netherlands News Agency, said yesterday that a young Netherlands man escaped from Germany many last spring, had given one of its correspondents an account of how the Germans had used civilian and war prisoners as human guinea pigs to test poison gases.

The agency quoted the young Netherlands man saying he was taken from Mauthausen concentration camp to a large building containing laboratories and gas chambers—concrete enclosures with windows of thick glass through which German chemists and physiologists observed the reactions during the experiments.

He and 27 other men were forced to undress and undergo three experiments, he was quoted as saying.

In the first test, lasting an hour, Aneta said, the men began to retch, became dizzy and almost unconscious and had to be carried out. Blood flowed from their mouths, ears and nostrils, Aneta said, and the Germans took X-ray photographs of their lungs and livers.

The young Netherlands man, quoted as saying 40 Jews died after being exposed to similar tests.

Independents Doubt Chances To Win Riding

Long-Term Bacon Agreement With Britain Studied

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—

A long-term agreement under which the United Kingdom would agree to purchase bacon supplies from Canada over a period of four or five years has been suggested by Canadian officials and now is under consideration in London, it was learned yesterday.

An increase in production in 1944, Canada undertakes to provide the United Kingdom with not less than 400,000 pounds of bacon in each of the next two years. Because of the need of maintaining the British bacon ration of four ounces a week, Agriculture Minister Gardiner has asked hog producers to seek production to permit annual shipment of 600,000,000 pounds.

INCREASE UNLIKELY

The prior factor is concerned not only with the British, but also the Canadian, ability to pay. A substantial part of the bacon sent to Britain is paid for out of the Canadian mutual aid appropriation of $1,000,000,000 approved at the 1943 session of parliament, and there have been estimates that the Canadian share of the payment is one-half.

1 package JELL-O (Strawberry, Raspberry or Cherry)

Disolve Jell-O in hot water. Turn into shallow pan. Chill until firm. Cut in cubes. Pile cubes lightly in sherbert or parfait glasses. Pour custard sauce over the cubes of shimmering Jell-O. Serves 6 to 8.

Easy, isn't it? And here's an idea for Jell-O Puddings!

JELL-O TRIFLE

1 package JELL-O PUDDING (any flavor, but vanilla is specially good)
6 or 7 squares plain cake
Home made custard

Prepare Jell-O Pudding as directed on the package. Spread top of each square of cake with custard. Place squares of cake in shallow glass or plastic dish. When pudding is cool, pour custard over all.

This recipe gives you 6 or 7 servings of as delightful a dessert as you ever tasted. You can thank the winning quality of Jell-O Puddings for that full, rich flavor—that smooth, creamy consistency.

Hint Belgium May Join Commonwealth

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(CP)—

A hint that Belgium might become a member of the British Commonwealth under certain conditions has been dropped by a spokesman for the Belgian ministry of information, the Daily Sketch said today. The Sketch said one of its correspondents had asked the spokesman about a speech made in Belgium by Antoine Delfosse, Belgian justice and information minister, who favored Belgium's joining the Commonwealth in the future as a measure of peace in Europe, and the spokesman replied:

"Mr. Delfosse might have been referring to the possibility of Belgium entering the Commonwealth." Delfosse had said "we Belgians are ready to sacrifice part of our sovereignty on the altar of world peace. We ask but one thing—to be free."

Better Do It Now

Little more than a week remains in which to make a contribution to the Not Forgotten Fund. The fund is growing nicely, but it can be boosted to far higher figures without being out of proportion. There are more than a hundred veterans of the First and the Second great war in the University hospital, who are provided with Christmas cheer to the extent that the money will make possible.

No person who can spare a contribution, small or large, will want to miss the opportunity to help a message of seasonal greeting to these men. As the time is growing short, it will be well to attend to the matter without further delay. There are always a multitude of things to think about and do in the few days just before Christmas. It would be unpleasant to wake up Christmas morning and realize that one had forgotten about the Not Forgotten Fund in the mental whirl of the pre-Christmas rush.

Farm and Town

A farmer organization in Ontario has gone on record as being opposed to "any increase in wages in the agricultural sector on a party basis." The same attitude, less clearly declared, may be seen in resolutions passed by farm organizations in other provinces.

The underlying fact is that the farmer has not been as well paid as the industrial worker, and the townsmen generally. That was true long before the war, has not been corrected by wartime developments, but will have to be corrected if post-war conditions are to be stable and satisfactory.

We may as well accept the fact that there cannot be prosperity, nor even affluence, on the basis of well-paid industrial workers and under-paid farmers. Full employment is impossible in such a state of inequality. Unless the farmer can buy industrial products in proportion, it is useless to suppose that industry can be fully employed.

This protest from the farmers is one which, industrialists and townsmen generally, should pay attention to. The unemployment is a fatal to any hope of good times either in town or country.

Since the farmer produces in surplus quantities, there is no reason why he should be able to obtain for his products. Subsidies paid to him out of his taxes are wartime palliatives only; they cannot establish balance. To keep the farmer's products are therefore vitally concerned in the securing of markets abroad at good prices for the surplus products of the farm, more vitally than at any other time, for it will depend on the wages which the industrial worker will be able to get when peace returns, expedients are dropped and we have to do business on the free basis.

Saluting the Flag

It is the business of the schools to instill into the young a wholesome respect for and understanding of the country they live in. It is doubtful if this essential purpose is accomplished by compelling children to salute the flag.

If the instructional phase of patriotic education is being carried out properly, children should know well why to salute the flag. If it is necessary to force them to salute the flag, it seems obvious that the instructional phase has fallen down and that the ceremony has become a mere mumbo-jumbo.

That is why the expulsion of a child from an Edmonton school for refusing to salute the flag is a rather juvenile and futile business.

The fact—if it is a fact—that this child comes from a home steeped in the tenets of a fantastic sect, that has made quite a nuisance of itself, has nothing to do with the point at issue. The point is that what the public expects from the schools is the instilling of a rational love of country, not insistence upon a meaningless patriotic ritual.

If that ritual grows naturally out of a love of country, well and good. If it is forced and based on nothing but compulsion, it signifies nothing.

The flag in British countries has never been an object of worship. It is a respected symbol. But a symbol is meaningless unless it has a sympathetic understanding of what it symbolizes. The average Britisher feels a little silly if he is made to indulge in these exotic gestures of patriotism which appear to him to cheapen and unnecessarily theatricalize his deepest emotions.

To force a child, to force anyone, to take part in a ritual of this kind is to make the cause the only value of any symbol is belief in it. If there is no belief, going through the ritual is an empty gesture.

McCormick Lies

Demanding that all European powers be compelled to relinquish their holdings in the western hemisphere, Col. Robert R. McCormick, Non-Aligned publisher of the Chicago Tribune, declares that in 1919 the American general staff was apprehensive of a British invasion of the United States from Canada.

There were 300,000 British regulars all ready to attack the United States, says the sensational colonel, and preparations had been made to land them in Canada. This was at the time of the tension over American naval building plans.

This is probably Col. McCormick's most ridiculous lie.

In case Americans do not know it, the British would not dream of invading the United States under any circumstances. Nor is it conceivable that Canada would permit her territory to be used as a base for the invasion of the United States. The thing is too completely preposterous for discussion.

The time has come, in the opinion of many thousands of Canadians, when Col. McCormick should be told to moderate his infamous campaign against the British Empire.

No one cares very much if the amazing colonel uses the columns of his newspaper to sneer at British good-will and deride British good faith. The United States is an allegedly free country where free speech presumably prevails.

But when McCormick descends to deliberate and vicious falsehood to satisfy his frantic desire of everlastingly British when he seeks by pure mendacity to create a breach between good allies during the emergency of the earth's most terrible war, he comes very close to treachery to his own country.

So far as Canadians are concerned, McCormick is nothing but a childish extremist. He is a man whose only interest is concerned, he is a highly dangerous man.

Edmonton's Loss

The news that Lt. Col. L. Ursaki of the Salvation Army is to be transferred to Nova Scotia will cause regret to hundreds of Edmonton people.

Lt. Col. Ursaki has been a bright and inspiring figure in the community life of this city. He has co-operated in many important social activities. He has been recognized as one of the most successful and successful men in the city.

He goes, doubtless, to a wider field, where his splendid qualities of heart and mind will have fuller scope. But in no other scene will he have more appreciation and more warm friends than he has in Edmonton.

His transference is Edmonton's loss and many organizations and individuals here are keenly conscious of it.

The Miracle of Penicillin; A Strange War Plant

Huge Laboratory Produces Drug to Yield New

By WILLIAM HOLT IN THE BULL BULLETIN

I have just visited the strange war plant I've ever seen. It's a sort of huge laboratory where mold is being grown that greenish growth which appears on food if it is left long enough exposed to the air in a damp place. You get rid of it, though, by drying it in a dish, and that place where I've been, a staff of experts—doctors and scientists and a troop of war workers are cultivating mold, cooking it, feeding it on whatever it likes best, keeping it warm, protecting it from harm, treating it with the most loving care that can be given.

They're growing it in bottles—round flat bottles like Dutch cheese about a foot wide, specially made for the job. The mold grows on top of a nutrient medium—containing sugar and salts. It's not just any old mold which they are cultivating; it's a special kind called Penicillium Notatum Westling. The mold is being grown not for itself but for what it excretes into the broth.

The story of the discovery of penicillin's discovery which may prove to be the most important in the history of medicine—a most romantic tale—and goes back to 1928. The real hero of the story was a Scotchman named Alexander Fleming, a bacteriologist, who was on duty in a hospital in London, England, uninvited, and found his way into a culture dish in the laboratory. From the mold, the hospital bacteriologist was growing some Staphylococcus, the bacterium which causes the pus in abscesses, chronic bone infections and some other deadly diseases when every effort is made to combat the infection.

Setting down on the culture medium it began to grow. But the mold was growing, excreting something which was deadly to the bacteria. As the mold grew, the bacteria died. The mold was growing, excreting something which was deadly to the bacteria. As the mold grew, the bacteria died.

Fortunately for mankind, Professor Fleming was a very observant man. When he noticed this mold he became intensely interested. Something in the mold was killing the bacteria or stopping it from growing. He reached for a platinum wire loop, sterilized it red hot in the flame of his Bunsen burner, took a sample of the mold and set it to grow in nutrient broth in a test tube. As it grew, the bacteria died. The mold was growing, excreting something which was deadly to the bacteria. As the mold grew, the bacteria died.

was identified as Penicillium Notatum. Experiments on test plates proved that this substance prevented the growth of certain bacteria.

We jump 15 years for separating penicillin from the mold. Although Professor Fleming had suggested that it was not worth separating it, it might be possible to distill the blood serum itself without harming the patient. For one thing, there were other substances in the blood which were poisonous and it was exceedingly difficult to separate the penicillin from the poisons. No one was then working on the problem of separating penicillin from a mixed culture in a flask.

However, in 1940, Professor Florey and Dr. Chain at Oxford determined to try to isolate penicillin and purify it. Assisted by a team of chemists, bacteriologists, experimental workers and technicians after a year of hard and almost heart-breaking experiments, they triumphed. A yellow powder was produced—pure penicillin.

Extensive Tourist Traffic

Predicted for Northwest

By JAMES MCCOOR

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—The permanent population of the Canadian northwest, opened up by the Alaska military highway and air routes, probably never will be as great as that of more southerly districts but major tourist traffic may be expected. Dr. Charles Camell, deputy resource minister and Canadian chairman of the North Pacific planning project, said yesterday in an interview.

Nazi Parachute
Troops Thrown
Against Canucks

By LYNN HEINZELING

WITH THE 8TH ARMY IN ITALY, Dec. 15.—(Delayed)—(AP)—The German troops in fresh parachute regiments into the knee-deep mud of the front lines and olive groves bordering the Orsogna-Ortuna road today, but Canadians stopped them and inched ahead just short of blazing Orsogna.

Since the battle of the Sangro the German 65th Infantry has been smashed and the 90th Armored Cavalier Division now has been brought close to disintegration.

It was announced at Allied headquarters Thursday that Italian and Canadian troops had cut the Orsogna-Ortuna road in three places.

NAZI LOSSES HEAVY

In one stretch along this slippery, rocky battlefield the Germans lost 3,000 of 4,000 infantrymen who two weeks ago threw themselves powerfully against Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th Army.

The Orsogna-Ortuna road now has been cut at several places by the 8th Army's advance, are paying big dividends in dead and captured Germans.

New Zealanders slashed across the road in the Orsogna region last night (Tuesday) and took some 50 prisoners, and the Indians, too, moved forward to capture a hill on the highway.

CANUCKS 'DUG IN'

The Canadians, still unable to capture the line which lighted Orsogna last night, were dug in about 1,000 yards from the town, and a fresh-looking Canadian officer smiled and said "Everything is quiet here."

There was plenty of confidence in this advanced Canadian post in a little shell-shocked, mud-spattered village. One Canadian, lying in a pile of straw near an area of deep mud, called cheerily, "Tell 'em back home everything is fine here."

One Canadian, who had spent the night in the mud, showed the mud as "stronger than mud and snow."

"You stick in your shovel, and they can't pull it out either," he said.

Britain Refuses
To 'Excuse' Spain

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(CP)—

Britain has refused to accept Spain's disclaimer of responsibility for the incident in which men wearing Falangist uniforms broke into the home of the British vice-consul at Zaragoza on Nov. 19, the house of commons was told yesterday.

George Hall, foreign office parliamentary secretary, disclosed that Spain in apologizing recently for the intrusion said the government could not be responsible for the actions of party members.

"The ambassador has been instructed to reply that His Majesty's government can not accept the disclaimer of responsibility, or accept the view that the Spanish government is not responsible for the protection of the British vice-consul against ruffians wearing the uniform of the official party," Hall said.

The incident occurred when a group of men invaded the vice-consulate and heaped abuse on the vice-consul and his family. Spanish apology was disclosed in London D.P.C. from the King at Buckingham Palace.

They were King Carlos, R. W. McNair of North Bedford, Sask. who now holds the equivalent of three D.P.C.'s and has destroyed 10 enemy aircraft and Hugh Odey of Toronto. Also present to have the D.P.C. pinned on his chest and a chat with His Majesty was Sgt. L. Robert Buchanan of Vancouver, leader of the Canadian Wolf Squadron which flies with Godfrey's wing.

New Norman Wells on the Mackenzie river, more than 300 new wells had been drilled, most of them producing. Future development of undiscovered wealth will bring into existence some millions of population, Dr. Camell forecast.

AGRICULTURE LANDS

In the southern part of the region, including central British Columbia, the Peace River district in Alberta and the Peace River block in British Columbia, agriculture was well established.

Along the Alaska Highway there were no large blocks of good agricultural land, except in the Peace River area and one fairly large tract west of Whitehorse. In other sections, pockets of land probably could provide for the garden requirements of the population.

No Difficulty
In Production
Change Seen

By R. C. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 17.—(CP)—Hon. C. D. Howe, Canadian minister of munitions and supply, yesterday told reporters here that he foresaw no serious difficulties from wartime to peacetime production when the war is over, without any serious dislocation of employment.

"I have discussed this problem with many people who should know," he said, "and I can not see why the transition from war to peace production should not be several years of great production in both Canada and the United States before we will even catch up with the accumulated needs of the people."

CHANGE BY STAGES

He said the business of transforming from wartime to peacetime manufacture should not be long and it will be carried out in stages.

Canadian aircraft production could easily be transformed to meet the demands of commercial passenger and freight carrying needs, Mr. Howe said.

Mr. Howe is in Washington for an important meeting of the combined production and resources board tomorrow, is Canada's member on the board and his deputy, E. P. Taylor of Toronto, has been named to make his last appearance at a C.P.R.B. meeting.

The board will discuss the need for a new type of aircraft, and Mr. Howe said he does not yet know who will be appointed to succeed Taylor.

Says 'Flu Epidemic Is 10 Months Late

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—

The epidemic which has been afflicting Canadians across the Dominion—described as "A" type influenza—is nearly 10 months late in striking, according to Dr. Ronald Hare of the Connaught Laboratories, University of Toronto. He addressed the 12th annual Christmas meeting of the laboratory section, Canadian Public Health Association, here yesterday.

Dr. Hare said the currently raging "A" type influenza occurs in a two-year cycle and should have struck last February. Dr. Hare saw no hope of "flu" being licked in the near future.

"Someone may pull some cure out of a hat unexpectedly—some new drug perhaps," he said. "At present, searches for a cure for influenza are getting nowhere."

Dr. R. M. Shaw, Edmonton, was elected to the council of the association.

BRITISH BRIGADE SPARED AIR BLOW

By HOMING PIGEON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—A pigeon saved a British brigade in Italy from serving as targets for a formation of Allied bombers.

The planes were being warned up for the take-off at their base near the 5th Army front to attack Colli Vecchia, a fortified village held by the Germans near the Volturno river.

Pilots and crew members were adjusting their safety belts when a column dashed from the operations tent. "Hold it!" he yelled. "A brigade of British troops has entered Colli Vecchia."

The message had been flown to the base by "G. I. Joe," a blue and white spotted homing pigeon.

Wheeler Gain Third Straight Victory in Alberta Senior Hockey

Eddie O'Keefe Supplies Pass For Clincher

RED DEER, Alta., Dec. 17.—(CP)—A two-goal outburst in the third period gave Red Deer Army Wheelers a close 4-3 victory over Calgary A-16 Currie Barracks in the Alberta Services Senior Hockey League here last night.

It was the Wheelers' first home game of the season and the victory of the team's undisputed possession of first place.

The two clubs were deadlocked 2-2 until the 11th minute of the night game. Calgary Teemush-Mustang, the other club in the three-team league, has lost all its starts—two against the Wheelers and Currie Barracks.

Eddie O'Keefe, former Edmonton Junior, and Bud Emery, each netted one and picked up an assist to lead the winners' powerful attack. O'Keefe's relay was on George Parger's clutch in the final period.

The game was fast and clean throughout with only two penalties handed out in the 60 minutes. Both were taken by Calgary players.

Calgary was helped by the services of its leading scorers—The Mac Bentley and Cpl. Alex (Abe) Kallit. The two, along with P. Bobby Carter, all former big-league players, from Elmer Poirer's first forward line.

The visitors scored their first goal 56 seconds after the opening whistle when Carter and Ed. Tommy Anderson combined to beat Sugar Jim Henry. Pte. Bud Emery, 21-year-old defenseman who played with Wheelers last year, scored the Calgary's goal 10 minutes later. Sg. Ken Stewart made it 2-1 for Calgary just before the end of the first period.

Second-period goals were split—Pte. Bobby Carter scored for Calgary and O'Keefe for the Wheelers. Pte. Jack Forster and Parger netted the Wheelers' third-period counters.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Although few pitchers have made good as major league executives, the Phillies will open the 1944 season with ex-moundmen occupying a record-breaking number of desks. Young Bob Carpenter, club president, was a right-handed pitcher with Tower Hill prep at Wilmington, Del.

Herb Pennock, general manager, is a former major league pitcher with the New York Yankees. Manager Freddie Fitzsimmons is an ex-National League flinger, and Joe Reardon, head coach of the Phillies farm system, is reported to have done some minor league flinging in his younger days.

William A. Hella, New Orleans millionaire sportsman, has decided to call his $800,000 club "Unmanned" to avoid hurting the feelings of hundreds who suffered major league flinging in his younger days.

Col. Edward R. Bradley, who bred and raised four Kentucky Derby winners, enjoyed his 54th birthday Sunday by eating a turkey dinner at his little hour school farm in Kentucky. The Kentucky Turf Writers' Association was born last week at a dinner in Mexico City.

Shred Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators got Roger Wolff from the Athletics to tell him he can add his knuckleball pitching to the smart knuckling of Mickey Vernon and Dutch Leonard. . . . It seems that the Yankees have no yen for night knuckleballing . . . and the Senators' ar-clint contests may run to nearly 50 next season.

Sent to Boston, Then Quit

Detroit Goalie's Return Recalls Events in 1938

DETROIT, Dec. 17.—(CP)—Normie Smith's National Hockey League comeback with Detroit Red Wings last night recalls the bizarre sequence of events which led to his ejection as a player in 1938.

In November of that year, the 35-year-old Toronto-born goalie missed a train from New York to Montreal. The incident followed a four-game losing streak for Detroit. Manager Jack Adams acted swiftly.

Imposing a $150 fine and indefinite suspension on Smith, he recalled Harvey Tom from Pittsburgh and engineered an impromptu deal which sent Smith and a reported $150,000 to Boston Bruins for Tiny Thompson. Smith retaliated by announcing his retirement, and did not resume friendly relations with Adams for three years.

Normie replaced Jimmy Frank, who was Smith's pupil for a time when he appeared at the Detroit training camp in 1936 for a tryout.

Province Receives Copy of Bukley Journal

Gen. James A. O'Connor Makes Presentation To Premier Ernest Manning

By JACK DELONG

The thrilling story of a great pioneering venture of nearly a century ago, Col. Charles Bukley's uncompleted telegraph trail to Alaska, was presented to the Province of Alberta Friday, when a copy of the original Bukley Journal was handed Premier Ernest Manning by the man responsible for completion of the great Alaska Highway, Brig-Gen. James A. O'Connor, commanding officer of the Northwest Service Command of the U.S. Army.

Canada Meets Milk Quota, Official Says

Canada is the only United Nations country that has maintained its 1942 quota of butter production, D. H. McCullum, provincial dairy commissioner, told members of the Woodland Dairy Producers' Association at the annual luncheon meeting of the association held Thursday at the Masonic Temple.

He said that maintenance of milk production was one of the most vital problems facing the farming community at present. He was confident that a ready market for all milk products would be maintained in the post-war period, and urged farmers to continue increasing the production of milk.

MILK COMPETITION
 At the "Better Milk" competition staged annually by the association, first prize was won by the E. G. Roberts Estate, managed by Mr. C. J. Wilson, South Edmonton barrister. Second prize was taken by Mrs. N. Kautz, West Edmonton, and third prize by A. S. Huff, also of West Edmonton. The prizes were presented by Mr. McCullum.

Butter consumption had increased in recent months in Canada, said McCullum, and the rationing of tea and coffee had resulted in an increased consumption of fluid milk. This had resulted in the diversion of milk from cheese making, and also had resulted in a decrease in the amount of dairy butter made.

He said that every pound of milk that can be produced is needed for the fighting forces and the civilian workers and their allies. The farmers of Canada must live up to their obligation in meeting this demand. It is imperative that farmers increase production of milk, McCullum concluded.

Saw Today Government To Give Grant To Exhibition

Announcement was made Thursday by Charles E. Wilson, manager of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, that the provincial government would make an annual grant of $40,000 to the association to assist it in its educational work in the interests of better livestock and agriculture in northern Alberta.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the directors of the association at which the annual report of the association for the year was reviewed. Mr. Wilson said also that the closest cooperation was being maintained with the provincial department of agriculture and the association. This cooperation, he added, had been extremely helpful to the association.

A deficit of $14,000 resulted from the operation of the association during 1943. This was termed an excellent showing by Aid. J. M. Douglas, who said that to keep the deficit that low without revenue other than grants coming in was very good. It was pointed out also that the grant of $40,000 was from the federal government, $10,000 from the provincial government, and $14,000 from the Edmonton business houses and individuals.

War Services Bungalow Draw A.O.S. Tonight

Bishop Sends Call Churchill Prayers

The Right Reverend W. F. Barford, Bishop of Edmonton, announced Friday that he has called upon all members of the Anglican clergy to pray for the recovery of Prime Minister Winston Churchill. The Bishop has asked clergy members of the diocese to use the following prayer in all public services of the Church:

O Lord, who art our God and our Father: God, we thank thee that in the dark hours of our Empire's life Thou didst raise up Thy servant Winston Churchill to be unto us a strong and faithful leader in the sacred cause of justice and freedom, bestowing upon him many excellent and useful gifts. We beseech Thee to keep him under Thy protection and to restore him to health and home and to the service of all mankind. Graciously hear through Jesus Christ our Lord.

500 IN PRIZES AT JAMBOREE IN LOCAL ARMORIES

Approximately 500 in prizes will be distributed at the Armed Forces Victory Jamboree to be held at the Prince of Wales Armories on New Year's Eve, starting with draws for Victory bonds and continuing with prizes given for novelty dances, "jitterbug" contests and other stunts.

Every ticket holder, whether present or not, will be in the running for the prizes. Draw, while war savings certificates, merchandise, certificates and other awards will be handed out during the evening for a series of novelty competitions.

C.S.M. T. Booker, chairman of the entertainment committee, states that Joe Johnson and his band have been signed up for the night and will occupy a bandstand in the centre of the main floor where a public address system will be installed.

The jamboree, designed to attract war servicemen and their friends, has been endorsed by the War Services Council.

THE QUESTION
 Are you going to be home for Christmas?

THE ANSWERS
DIANNA SHAYET, stenographer: No, my home is in the east and it will be impossible for me to be there. I have been busy at Christmas time for a number of years now, and I try to spend the occasion as I would if I were with my family.

VIRGINIA HANSON, secretary: It may not be the right spirit, but this Christmas won't be Christmas for me. My husband is overseas and we both feel that Christmas will come only when we are together again even if it is in July. Naturally, I have sent him his Christmas gift.

An R.C.A.F. Serviceman—Yes, I will be home for Christmas. I am very fortunate to be stationed within a day's journey of my home which means I will be there Christmas eve and Christmas day.

Ventriloquist Burned When Trick Misses

Stan Storkow, R.C.N.V.R., ventriloquist and fire-wrecker, was slightly injured about the face while entertaining a gathering of the front club in the Macdonald hotel Thursday evening.

Storkow, whose act includes swallowing gasoline and then raising a blazing torch to his mouth, failed to exhale with the force necessary to carry the flaming gas through his mouth, with the result that the fluid exploded.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Parties to Shattered Romance Face Big Issue

Should They Tell Tale of New Love and Break Hearts and Homes, or Wait Until War Is Over And Conditions Normal

For nearly half a century this column has been the Walling Word in which the lovers have come to seek help for their heart troubles. Adverse boys and girls, suffering from heartache, have written to Dorothy Dix for advice. In the past, she has given them the best of advice, and many of them have found it. Now, in this time of war, the lovers face a new problem. They are torn between the desire to tell their tales of new love and the desire to wait until the war is over and conditions are normal.

Wives who have lost their faith in their husbands, and husbands who have found the Other Woman, are in a difficult position. They are torn between the desire to tell their tales of new love and the desire to wait until the war is over and conditions are normal.

WAR BRINGS TRAGEDIES. The war has brought many tragedies to the hearts of lovers. It has torn apart many marriages and has left many people in a state of heartache. But, in the end, it is the lovers who must decide for themselves what to do. They must decide whether or not to tell their tales of new love and whether or not to wait until the war is over and conditions are normal.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The following is an unusual question to be asked of this department but it is interesting and I am glad to answer it.

"Please discuss for your readers what is to be said for and against having one child. I know two families, who, though they are strangers, have similar problems. Both mothers want more children. Both fathers do not. They are middle-aged and do not want to be bothered by children. They think they can be their children's companions."

When you think these lovely children need other children for companionship, then the father is two brothers when there are no children than now when the children are born. What do you really think about this?

I don't think that parents have children to provide companionship for other children. They have children because they love children. They want real families, not sample ones, with boys and girls of different personalities and traits and appearances to carry on the inheritance they bequeath to them.

WAR BRINGS TRAGEDIES

The war has brought many tragedies to the hearts of lovers. It has torn apart many marriages and has left many people in a state of heartache. But, in the end, it is the lovers who must decide for themselves what to do. They must decide whether or not to tell their tales of new love and whether or not to wait until the war is over and conditions are normal.

Britain Is Making
Better Peace Plans
Than in Last War

Declaring that in the past "Properly has been measured by the accumulation of wealth in terms of money, without due regard to the real wealth of a nation—the well-being of its people," Bevin said the nations of the world must be a peace that is not a financial budget, but a human one.

World News Highlights Presented in Picture Form

Vienna Messerschmitt Plant

Turkish army, its mechanization modernized by Lend-Lease material, watches for overt move by Germany.

Star and Crescent Shine "Benevolently" on United Nations

Turkey is again in the shifting spotlight of war, but this time the dagger is pointed in the opposite direction. While this nation was once menaced by Germans in Bulgaria and Greece, it may now be used as base for Allied air attacks on the Balkans and Nazi-held Aegean islands. Turkey stands ready to meet any new threat of attack by Hitler with solid defences in the spotlighted area west of Istanbul. Entire Dardanelles area is on alert, with zone three miles wide on both sides of strait under strict military control.

Having recently received intensified training, Turkish aviators improved skill in modern gunnery. Air Force, once low in quantity and quality, now includes many American planes. Bottom photo shows Vulture attack bombers of Turkish air force.

R.C.A.F. Sub-Hunters Enjoy Pork and Beans Aloft

The roomy interior of a Sunderland flying boat provides plenty of space for airmen to cook, eat and even sleep in off-watch hours during long anti-submarine and convoy patrols over the Atlantic. There are even gay curtains over the portholes as the two Canadians at left pitch into a meal of pork and beans, toast, catsup and tea. They are Flight Sgt. Joe Kilgour of Cornwall, Ont., air gunner, and Flying Officer Jack Ritchie of Windsor, Ont., navigator. In the picture at right is Flying Officer J. "Mac" McGregor of Winnipeg, wireless air gunner, with a Coastal Command squadron in Iceland. He is standing beneath the tail guns of the giant Liberator bomber in which he flies on long-range patrols over the North Atlantic.

A New Sign For Germany

The name of a Nova Scotia town will be flown over Germany shortly by the crew of a big Lancaster bomber. The aircraft above has been named New Glasgow in honor of the citizens of that maritime municipality who won the highest award in the contest for campaign promotion ideas conducted during the Fourth Victory Loan. Below is a picture of the insignia painted on the bomber.

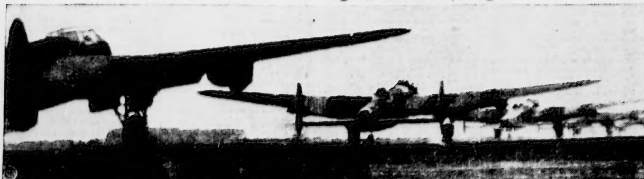

War Correspondent With Russian Friends

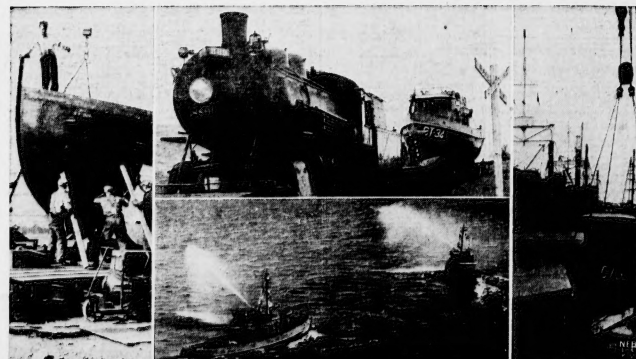

Principal speaker at a Thanksgiving service of the Congress for Canadian-Soviet Friendship in Toronto was Edgar Snow, war correspondent, who spent seven months in Russia. Here he chats with Col. Nicolai Zabolot, Russian Army representative, and Gregori Tounkin, Soviet charge d'affaires, Ottawa.

Off For Another Blasting of Berlin by Night

Lancaster bombers, with their lethal cargoes, are shown taxiing to the take-off point at a base somewhere in England. This squadron was part of the fleet of huge planes which dropped more than 2,000 additional tons of bombs on the already crippled city.

Royal Navy Tugs of War Built Far Inland in Canada

War has brought many startling changes to Canada but none more amazing than the construction of salt water tug boats at Trenton, Ontario, far inland from both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The Central Bridge Construction Company's 200 employees in Trenton turn out an average of one tug a week for the Royal Navy. Left, a tug under construction. Top centre, a completed tug is hauled away from the Trenton yards by a locomotive. Bottom centre, these tugs can double as fire fighters if necessary. Right, at an east coast port, one of the Trenton tugs is loaded onto a freighter for shipment to Britain.
